

ABSTRACT:

Edible or inert or nontoxic inks or other materials are printed or otherwise transferred onto the surfaces of medicated chewing gums, medicated candies, and other medicated edible products so as to provide easy and immediate visual identification of the medicaments and the dosages of the medicaments present and to identify the manufacturer of the medicated product and provide such data as may be needed to trace the batch of manufacture. Medicaments may be incorporated into the ink or material transferred onto chewing gums, candies, and other non-medicated edible products so as to create medicated chewing gums, medicated candies, and other medicated edible products. This printed Identification may be done in various colors to further aid in the visual identification of the medicaments present and further guarantee safe medication of the patient.